

So do you believe in fairies now ?

or do you need more proof ?Go out into nature and find a nice place to sit. Close your eyes and take a deep breath . Allow the energy of nature to fill your lungs, let go, allow a deep sense of relaxation to embrace you. For some it will be possible to see them with open eyes, for others looking through the mind's eye is more appropriate.

We do not always appear as little people with wings, I guess you have seen us already.

Ever seen a tree that has a face, or a rock that looks like a little man. We use our environment to express ourselves. Sometimes we appear as butterflies or birds.

You may even be privileged to see a nature spirit, look for the hazy, shimmering light that hangs in the top of trees. Don't look too hard, we live on the fourth dimension and you cannot see us with the usual function of your eyes. Off focus the eyes, and use a different part of the eyes.

There are too functions to your eyes, one is for seeing third dimensional physical objects , the other is so you are able to see other dimensional energies. Do not hurry, all in its own time. Listen carefully you may be able to hear our fairy songs, fairies love to sing. Our songs do not always make much sense to you as humans; you do not understand our language. They may seem like nonsense to you, but in the vibration of these songs is our message. Do not expect to hear these songs with your physical ears, we will sing to you inside your head.

There are other indications that we fairies are around you. You will feel dreamy, as you are entering our kingdom using your fourth dimensional dream body.

You may even feel a little tired.

Watch that you do not fall asleep as we fairies can be rather mischievous and like to play tricks on you whilst you sleep. Ever walked into a forest and felt what you think is a cobweb on your face ? that is no spider web ,it is fairy hair. A little warning though not all of us fairies are kind beings. If you enter a forest and you hear an owl or other bird screeching, then this is a warning that you are not welcome and you should leave immediately. So good luck on your fairy hunt
